Learning diversity and inclusion in IB programmes Over the past two decades, education for all students with disabilities has moved from segregation and special schools to inclusive education that embraces diversity and differences. Today, inclusive education is supported by the United Nations as a matter of human rights and social justice.
The aim is to outline and strengthen the position of the IB concerning inclusive education	The purpose is to support schools in structuring and developing the practices of inclusive education	Addresses the IB standards and practices.	Intended for school leaders, program coordinators, all IB educators, learning support, and consultants.

Inclusion

Sandnes International School endeavors to ensure equitable access to learning for all students in our school. SDIS is committed to identifying and removing barriers to learning. Diversity is seen as a valuable contribution to our school community and we aim to utilize this diversity to deepen understanding in any learning context. At SDIS, each individual has value and is given the opportunity to contribute. This way, we aim to increase access and engagement for learning.

According to the IB:

"Inclusion is an ongoing process that aims to increase access and engagement in learning for all students by identifying and removing barriers. Inclusion is an organization paradigm that involves change. It is a continual process of increasing learning and participation for all students. It addresses learning support requirements and questions the broader objectives of education, the nature of pedagogy, curriculum, and assessment. It is an educational approach to which all schools should aspire. Inclusion is facilitated in a culture of collaboration, mutual respect, support, and problem-solving involving the whole school community." (Learning diversity and inclusion in IB Programmes, page 1)

What are IB principles for inclusive education?
